YOUR TAKE LLC / LEGAL

Terms of Service

Effective October 24, 2026 · Version 2026-10-24.1

Your Take is operated by Your Take LLC in the United States of America. Legal contact: operations@YourTake.com. These Terms are governed by Pennsylvania law, subject to the mandatory rights described below. This document is not a Privacy Policy.

These Terms of Service (Terms) govern your use of Your Take at yourtake.dev and in its iOS and Android apps, including sports takes, predictions, points, gem ranks, live Arenas, messaging and communities. In these Terms, ‘Your Take’, ‘we’ and ‘us’ mean Your Take LLC. By accepting these Terms, you agree to follow them. If you do not agree, do not create an account or use the service.

1. Eligibility and your account

You must be at least 18 years old, or the age of majority where you live if higher, and legally able to enter into these Terms. You must also be allowed to use the service under the laws that apply to you.

Provide accurate account information, keep your login details secure and do not share or sell your account. You are responsible for activity you authorize through your account. Tell us promptly if you believe someone has accessed it without permission. Do not impersonate another person, team, league or organization, or create accounts to evade restrictions.

2. Sports predictions, points and rankings

Your Take is a sports discussion and entertainment service. Predictions use virtual points, not real-money betting. Points, gem ranks, Sports IQ scores and leaderboard positions are not money, cryptocurrency, investments or stored value. They cannot be purchased as betting stakes, sold, transferred for money or redeemed for cash through Your Take.

Points may rise or fall based on take engagement, prediction outcomes, Arena participation and the scoring rules shown in the app. Agreeing or disagreeing with a prediction does not itself award points. Game picks may be settled from final results; season-long predictions may be reviewed by AI or an administrator. Results, schedules and data may be delayed, incomplete or wrong. We may correct scoring errors, reverse abusive activity or leave an uncertain outcome pending review.

Do not treat takes, predictions or AI output as betting, financial or professional advice. Paid subscriptions and paid community access buy service features or access, not a wager, guaranteed sporting result or guaranteed return. Creators must not convert points-based challenges into real-money gambling. Any separately offered promotion or prize needs its own published rules and must comply with applicable law.

3. Fair play and prohibited conduct

Debate the sport, not someone’s safety or dignity. Do not post threats, targeted harassment, hate speech, sexual exploitation, unlawful content, private personal information without permission, scams, malicious links or content that infringes another person’s rights. Do not encourage violence or use Your Take to stalk, intimidate or exploit others.

Do not manipulate points, votes, predictions, rankings or followers using bots, coordinated fake engagement, multiple accounts or unauthorized automation. Do not bypass paid-community restrictions, interfere with the service, probe other users’ accounts, scrape personal information or access systems without authorization. Lawful security research must not harm users or expose their data.

4. Your content and permissions

You keep ownership of the text, photos, videos, audio and other material you submit. You are responsible for having the rights and permissions needed to share it, including permission from people whose image, voice or private information you include. Do not upload protected game broadcasts, music, team artwork or other material unless you have authorization or a lawful basis to use it.

You grant Your Take a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to host, store, reproduce, format, display and transmit your content as needed to operate, secure and provide the service. We may use service providers for those purposes. This license does not transfer ownership of your content or give us an unrestricted right to sell it.

The license ends when your content is removed from the service, except for reasonable backup retention, legal obligations, safety investigations and copies already shared by other users outside our control. Removing content may not erase screenshots, messages or copies independently retained by others. We do not claim that your content is licensed for training third-party AI models by these Terms.

5. Live Arenas, camera and microphone

Joining an Arena as a debater can transmit your live camera and microphone to other participants and viewers. Review your surroundings and device permissions before taking a seat. Turn controls and timing may limit when your microphone is active. Camera and audio quality depend on devices, permissions, connectivity and third-party network services; uninterrupted connections are not guaranteed.

Arena judging records each speaker's own turns and sends those recordings to an AI service for transcription and scoring. Transcripts, judge feedback and scores are stored under the room's access rules. Camera or microphone permission alone is not consent to unrelated recording or use; review the Arena disclosure and Privacy Policy before taking a debater seat.

Do not record, redistribute or commercially use another participant’s image or voice without the consent or other legal authorization required where you and they are located. Other people may nevertheless capture what they see or hear; do not share sensitive information in a live session. Video takes you choose to publish are shared as posts rather than private recordings.

6. Moderation, reports and enforcement

We may investigate reports and remove content, restrict features, correct manipulated scores, suspend accounts or end access when reasonably necessary for safety, legal compliance or a breach of these Terms. Community creators and authorized moderators may apply community rules consistent with these Terms. We do not promise to review every post or prevent every instance of misconduct.

Use available reporting and blocking controls to flag abuse, or contact operations@YourTake.com with the affected account or content and your concern. Arena hosts can remove participants from their room. Blocking limits supported interactions but does not currently mute an Arena participant's live audio or video; leave the room or ask the host to remove the participant if needed. If you believe an enforcement or scoring decision is mistaken, request review at the same address. Where required by law, we will provide notice, reasons and applicable review rights. Emergency threats should be reported to the appropriate emergency services.

7. Subscriptions, billing and cancellation

Optional PRO, PRO+ and ELITE subscriptions and paid-community memberships have the subscription name, included features, price, currency and billing period shown at checkout. Platform subscriptions and individual hub memberships are separate purchases. Website purchases use website checkout. Digital subscriptions purchased inside the iOS or Android app use Apple App Store or Google Play in-app billing, respectively, when available. The localized store price and purchase confirmation control the amount charged; a website price does not override a store price.

Payment is charged to your Apple Account, Google Play account or website payment method on purchase confirmation. Recurring subscriptions automatically renew for the disclosed period until canceled. For Apple subscriptions, cancel at least 24 hours before the current period ends; your account may be charged for renewal within the 24 hours before the period ends. For Google Play and website subscriptions, cancel before the renewal deadline shown by the provider. Any trial, introductory price, conversion to a paid price or plan-change adjustment applies only if explicitly offered and disclosed at checkout; these Terms do not promise a trial.

Manage or cancel Apple subscriptions through Apple Account subscription settings (https://apps.apple.com/account/subscriptions), Google subscriptions through Google Play subscription settings (https://play.google.com/store/account/subscriptions), and website subscriptions through Your Take's website payment-management controls. Unless the provider discloses otherwise or law requires otherwise, cancellation stops future renewals and access continues through the already-paid period. Removing the app, signing out, deleting your Your Take account or losing creator status does not itself cancel store billing. Plan changes, renewal notices and price changes follow the provider's disclosed rules and applicable law.

Use Restore purchases in the mobile app while signed into the appropriate store and Your Take account to request verification of existing purchases. Restore does not create a new charge and does not transfer another person's purchase to you. Access depends on verification of the correct plan or hub, purchase ownership and current subscription status. Pending, failed or sandbox transactions do not establish live paid access. Contact operations@YourTake.com if a completed purchase does not appear.

Apple handles refunds for Apple purchases through https://reportaproblem.apple.com; Google Play handles refunds under its purchase and refund policies, including https://support.google.com/googleplay/answer/2479637. For website purchases or assistance, contact operations@YourTake.com. A refund or revoked purchase may end the associated access. Refunds, withdrawal rights and other non-waivable consumer remedies remain available; no automatic refund is promised beyond the provider's rules and applicable law.

8. Communities and creator earnings

Creating a community requires approval or an invitation and an eligible creator plan. Community and moderator limits, branding tools, private access and other capabilities depend on the current plan. A paid-community membership is separate from a Your Take creator subscription and does not itself grant PRO, PRO+ or ELITE status.

Eligible ELITE creators may offer paid community access within the pricing range permitted by the service. The stated revenue split is 80% to the creator and 20% to Your Take. The checkout and creator earnings statement govern the amounts actually collected and adjustments for refunds, chargebacks, taxes or other disclosed deductions; the service should disclose how those items affect the split before a creator sells access.

Creator earnings are tracked after successful payment and payouts currently require manual administrative processing. Earnings are not a guarantee of payment on a particular date. Payment may depend on identity verification, payment eligibility, dispute resolution and legal requirements. Creators are responsible for their tax obligations, lawful promotions, accurate descriptions of paid benefits and community moderation. Do not promise guaranteed earnings, points or sporting outcomes. Separate creator or payout terms may apply if presented and accepted.

9. Chet, AI and third-party information

Chet and other AI features may generate answers, polls, insights or prediction assessments. AI output can be inaccurate, biased or incomplete and must not be relied on as a definitive statement of fact. Important decisions should be checked against reliable sources. Automated grading may be corrected or referred for administrator review.

Sports schedules, scores, headlines, payments, sign-in and video connectivity may rely on third parties. Their services and external links may have separate terms and privacy practices. Your Take is not affiliated with or endorsed by a team, league or broadcaster merely because it is discussed or appears in community branding.

10. Privacy and visibility

These Terms are not a Privacy Policy and do not replace a separate explanation of how personal information is collected, used, retained and shared. Review any privacy notices presented by the service. Your camera and microphone require device permission, and published posts, profiles and Arena contributions may be visible to the audience allowed by the relevant feature.

Private pins, messages and restricted communities must not be treated as permission to disclose someone else's personal information. A private or paid community cannot prevent its members from taking screenshots or copying information. Share only information you are comfortable making available to the intended audience.

11. Service ownership and rights complaints

Your Take's software, interface and original branding belong to the operator or its licensors. These Terms give you a limited right to use the service as intended, not ownership of its intellectual property. Third-party names, logos and content remain the property of their respective owners.

If you believe content infringes your copyright or other rights, submit a report through the available support or reporting options with the material's location, the rights you claim, your contact details and a good-faith explanation. Send formal copyright notices and counter-notices to Your Take LLC at operations@YourTake.com, including the information required by applicable law.

12. Availability and disclaimers

To the extent permitted by law, the service is provided 'as is' and 'as available'. We do not guarantee uninterrupted access, error-free results, a particular audience size, earnings, rank or prediction outcome. Features may change, experience outages or be discontinued. We will honor paid-service obligations and provide any notice or remedy required by applicable law.

Nothing in these Terms excludes mandatory consumer guarantees or other rights that cannot lawfully be excluded. Statements about availability and accuracy do not excuse fraud, intentional misconduct or other liability that applicable law prohibits us from limiting.

13. Responsibility and liability

You are responsible for your unlawful conduct and content that violates another person's rights. To the extent permitted by applicable law, Your Take is not responsible for indirect or consequential losses arising from other users' content, reliance on predictions or AI output, or interruptions outside its reasonable control.

No exclusion in these Terms applies to liability that cannot legally be excluded, including any applicable liability for fraud, willful misconduct, gross negligence, death or personal injury, or non-waivable consumer and data-protection rights. No mandatory arbitration clause or class-action waiver is imposed by these Terms.

14. Ending access and changes to the Terms

You may stop using Your Take at any time. Choose Delete account at the bottom of Settings or visit https://yourtake.dev/delete-account and confirm DELETE. Eligible accounts are permanently deleted with their profile, followed teams, takes, uploaded media and associated personal activity. Accounts with community ownership, billing, creator or enforcement dependencies require review and completion through operations@YourTake.com; they are not deleted immediately. Active reports may be removed while restricted safety evidence, required financial or legal records, backups and recipient-held copies remain as explained in the Privacy Policy. Cancel recurring subscriptions separately through their payment provider. Deletion may remove access to posts, points, ranks and communities, subject to mandatory rights to obtain your data.

We may end or restrict access for serious or repeated breaches, unlawful use, security risks or discontinuation of the service, subject to required notice and consumer rights. Provisions that reasonably need to survive termination, including payment obligations already incurred, rights complaints and lawful limits of liability, continue to apply.

We may update these Terms. The version date identifies the current text. Material changes will be communicated in the app or by other appropriate means, with renewed acceptance where required by law. Changes do not retroactively remove rights already accrued.

15. Applicable law and contact

These Terms are governed by the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, United States of America, without regard to conflict-of-law rules, except where applicable federal law or mandatory protections require otherwise. Disputes may be brought before a court with competent jurisdiction. Nothing in these Terms deprives you of the protection of mandatory laws where you live or your right to bring a claim in a court available to you under those laws. If part of these Terms is unenforceable, the remaining provisions continue to apply to the extent lawful.

The service is operated by Your Take LLC in the United States of America. For legal questions, notices and rights complaints, contact operations@YourTake.com. For ordinary account, content or billing concerns, use the support and reporting options available in Your Take. Separate privacy notices and any required creator payout disclosures supplement these Terms.

16. Mobile app license and store terms

The iOS app's software license is governed by Apple's Standard Licensed Application End User License Agreement at https://www.apple.com/legal/internet-services/itunes/dev/stdeula/, unless a separate custom license is expressly supplied in the App Store listing. These Terms govern Your Take's service, accounts, content and subscriptions; they do not purport to replace Apple's standard license. Your use of the App Store and Google Play is also subject to the applicable store's terms and usage rules.

For Android, Your Take grants you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to install and use the app on devices you own or control for its intended personal use, subject to these Terms and applicable Google Play rules. Do not copy, resell, redistribute, reverse engineer or circumvent protections except where applicable law expressly permits it.

Your Take LLC operates the service and is responsible for its support, content and service obligations, not Apple or Google. Contact operations@YourTake.com for support and complaints. Store billing, refund and non-waivable consumer rights remain governed by the applicable provider rules and law.
